

MERCHANTS READY TO OPEN CARNIVAL

Great Seventh Street Festival
Begins Tonight With Most Unique Parade.

The enterprising merchants have secured further illumination in the shape of special electric signs and decorative features. Every show window is to be brilliantly illuminated, and especially decorated.

The merchants are loud in their praises of the newspapers of Washington for the assistance given them.

Among the handsomely decorated stores along Seventh street today were the Newport Store, 13416 Seventh street. The attractive decorations attracted much attention from pedestrians. B. B. Heberer will make a distribution of unique souvenirs to every child, accompanied by a grown person, visiting the store today.

Parade Grows Larger.
The parade feature of the carnival has grown way beyond the original plans of the committee in charge, and promises to be one of the most unusual seen in Washington for years. Chief Marshal Berberich will start the marchers at 1:30 o'clock.

The first, or civic division will contain the members of the Mid-City Citizens' Association, and distinguished guests in automobiles. President Driscoll will be the host and his guests will include Secretary of the District Commissioners, Daniel Donavan, the Mt. Rainier board of trade, P. T. Moran, president of the Chamber of Commerce; E. C. Brandenburg, president of the Board of Trade; E. F. Coladay, president of the Federation of Citizens' Associations; C. P. Hunt, District Commissioner; Thomas J. Fisher, Jr., D. R. Singleton, Board of Trade; W. F. Peabody, president of the Safety First Association; Thomas Grant, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; Charles Columbus, secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association; C. J. Gockeler, secretary of the Board of Trade; I. Gana, and many other representative citizens.

The second division, the industrial section, under Marshal M. Frank Ruppert, will be made up of local revenue sending business firms and individuals not only along Seventh street but in other sections of the city as well.

Many Firms Represented.
These floats will represent the industries followed by the firms and from many of them souvenirs will be distributed. They will include floats from Coca-Cola Company, Havenner Baking Company, J. N. Gregg, J. O. Akers, Convention Hall Market, W. H. Speis, O Street Market, N. Auto, Loefler & Co., Washington Electric Light and Power Company, Huns Eurythm Company, Harry Kaufman, George M. Barke, Louis Hartig, Hub Furniture Company, R. Berberich, J. French, Simpson, W. Thomas Furniture Company, Edwards Bauer Company, Holmes & Son, Peter Grogan, James Straubinger, Merchants' Parcel Delivery Company, Velvet Ice Cream Company, Albert L. Johnson, H. A. Simons Company, N. Conrad, J. E. Eros, Mo-Seizer Company, Washington Gas Light Company, Bloodwine Company, Merchants' Transfer and Storage Company, W. J. Thorne, J. Freund, M. Frank Ruppert.

The third section of the parade, the carnival division, under Marshal M. A. Pines, is to include the marchers and fancy costumed persons. This division will include floats, school cadets, play ground and other children; fancy costumed groups, fancy costumed individuals; Boy Scouts; fancy costumed skaters. This division will form in New York avenue east of Seventh street, facing west.

Go North In Seventh Street.
After the parade, the four bands engaged by the Citizens' Association will take station at Seventh and N. Seventh and N. Seventh and O, and Seventh and Rhode Island avenue, where they will play the remainder of the evening.

Chief Marshal Berberich announced this afternoon that in addition to the floats and bands, a number of floats will be sent out from the merchants along Seventh street will distribute souvenirs.

The route of the parade will be from New York avenue north along Seventh street to Rhode Island avenue; east along Rhode Island avenue to R street, to First street; thence north to Rhode Island avenue, west to S street to Seventh street, and thence south to Market place, where the marchers will disembark, the carnival division returning to the carnival section of Seventh street, north of New York avenue, to participate in the dancing and skating contests. At Seventh and M streets will be the reviewing stand, where the judges, representing the four Washington newspapers, will pass judgment on the floats and award the four handsome money cups donated by the newspapers, and the money prizes presented by the association.

Orders were issued this afternoon from the Department of Engineering for No. 1 Engineer Company, to report to Marshal Berberich and participate in the parade as representatives of the District Government. The Fire Department detachment will be assigned to the industrial section, and will lead the line of march, the engine and hose cars will be decorated with flowers and flags. This is the company that won the prize for engine companies this year.

MORTALITY IS HIGH IN TRENCH WARFARE

Nature of Commoner Wounds,
Due to Shell and Shrapnel,
Favors Infection.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The New York Medical Journal, in its current issue, ascribes to trench fighting the reason back of Premier Asquith's statement that the death rate among the wounded in the present war is 24 per cent, whereas in the Crimean war it was but 22 per cent, calling attention to the fact that in the Crimean war the sanitary conditions were appalling, as against the highly developed medical organizations and hospital stations in this war.

"The explanation," says the New York Medical Journal, "of the present high mortality is that the struggle on of trench fighting, in which most of the wounds are inflicted by shrapnel and shell, and when they do occur the body is so sheltered by the trenches that it is generally the head which is hit, and the probability of fatal results is consequently much greater."

"The nature of the commoner wounds, due to shell and shrapnel, favors infection, and in spite of early dressing the wounds are carried far into the tissue and suppuration is inevitable. Trench war can never be aseptic. The uniform of the men are covered with mud, which in highly cultivated districts always contains dangerous micro-organisms, so that any wound, however slight, becomes infected."

FOUR HELD IN CRAVEN CASE IN ALEXANDRIA

Witnesses in Connection With Death of Man Whose Body
Was Found in Street.

ALEXANDRIA, Oct. 4.—Four young men—Henry Beach, nineteen, William Tomlin, twenty-one, Joseph M. Monroe, Jr., twenty-eight, and George Monroe, twenty-two—are held at police station as witnesses in connection with the death of George T. Craven, ship carpenter, whose body was found at 1:15 o'clock yesterday morning at the corner of Royal and Wolfe streets. A woman over his left temple had caused his death.

The four men acknowledged the police say, that they were with Craven at the time of his death. One of them, the police say, pushed the man and he fell on the road. They left him there, it is alleged, and when they returned found him dead. They did not report the matter to anyone. Craven's body was discovered a few minutes later by Lawrence Fudgett, an auto driver.

A coroner's jury yesterday afternoon viewed the remains. The jury is composed of E. F. Marbury, George H. Robinson, Samuel W. Pitts, C. A. Connell, J. D. Brown, and John G. Henshaw. The jury will take testimony tonight.

Everything is in readiness for the Elks' semi-monthly meeting, which will commence tomorrow morning. The delegates commenced to arrive this afternoon. The formal opening will occur in the Elks' Auditorium at 10 o'clock. Mayor Fisher will welcome the delegates on behalf of the city, and Congressman Charles C. Carlin, a past exalted ruler, or Alexandria Lodge, No. 28, will welcome the visitors on behalf of the local Elks. There will be a trip to Mt. Vernon tomorrow afternoon. The social session tomorrow night will be one of the largest affairs ever given in Alexandria. In addition to the Virginia Elks 26 members of Washington Lodge, No. 16 are expected. The Washington Elks will arrive here in two special trains, and will be accompanied by a band of twenty-five pieces.

Board of Trade Directors Hold Fall Meeting Today

Directors of the Board of Trade held their first fall meeting this afternoon. Secretary C. J. Gockeler has written President Brandenburg that he will not be a candidate for re-election, and proposes after the annual meeting of the board, in November, to devote his entire time to his business affairs. When Mr. Gockeler, before his election to the secretaryship, accepted the chairmanship of the membership committee, the board had 799 members. Before his retirement from that position the membership had increased to more than 1,000 and at present the number exceeds 1,200.

Chairman E. F. Coladay was host to members of the membership committee at a luncheon at the University Club today.

PLEA FOR HELP MADE IN U. S. FOR HEBREWS

Dr. B. Epstein Raises Money Here to Send Aid to 100,000 Needy in Palestine.

Dr. B. Epstein, of Cologne, Germany, director of the Jewish national fund, in this country in the interests of the Zionist movement and of the great fund, delivered an address last evening at the Adas Israel Congregation Temple, Sixth and I streets northwest, under the auspices of the Adas Israel Society.

Dr. Epstein said that the fund was chiefly to purchase land in Palestine for Hebrews. Owing to economic conditions there on account of the European war, the money to be gathered now is for the maintenance of 100,000 needy inhabitants. All their hopes rest on Hebrews of the United States.

After an urgent appeal by Dr. Epstein, large subscriptions were turned in. He will address Zionists tonight at the Adas Israel Club, 1223 Sixth street northwest.

Last night addresses were also made by Dr. Glushank and Dr. Benjamin Grossman.
